

SAI LINK

Children's Colouring Page

Production of Sai Centre Katong, Singapore

April & May 2006

Colouring Time : Simply use your creativity and colour the picture.
Submit it to your Guru, no later than 27 April 2006, and win yourself attractive prizes!

SAI LINK

The "Intelligence" Page

Production of Sai Centre Katong, Singapore

April & May 2006

Win yourself attractive prizes with each correct answer you get. Simply send in your answers to: sailink_katong@yahoo.com, no later than 29 April 2006.

1. Why do we break a coconut in a pooja ritual?

2. Why do we show Aarathi?

3. Why do we apply tilak to our foreheads?

4. FLASH/DESERT RAIN: In the summer a man was walking lost in the desert. He had no food or water. When his body was found one day later by police, the ground was dry. They were baffled, because he had drowned! How could this be? Hint: Look at the title carefully.

5. There once was a family of spies. One of them is celebrating his birthday, and the Mommy spy gave him gifts. The celebrant did not say anything; instead he gave this set of words:

Toes
Heat
Ambition
Nose
Kiss
See
For one-upmanship
Route
Tough

And because the family are spies, the Mom understood the message. What was the message?

Answers to March 2006 edition of SAI LINK (Page 4)

1. The man's son.
2. The year's date reads the same when turned upside down. That will not happen again until 6009.
3. Three. The doorman lets in those who answer with the number of letters in the word the doorman says.